NEW DX RESOURCE WEB PAGE
Paul, K4UJ, has created a new Web page that is "Wiki based and intended to be for community collaboration." On this page is a listing of each DXCC Entity, each entity has its own page that contains several informational areas. Paul states, "I am soliciting the amateur community for assistance in filling in the information. I have provided an example to show how I would like for each to look. Within each entry you will be able to understand its history, the current DXCC status, challenges with obtaining permission to activate, the IOTA reference, a list of all previous DXpeditions, links to other sites that contain pertinent information.
For those of you that have used www.wikipedia.com, it is the same software they use and will have the same look and feel. Please do not post copyrighted material unless you have written permission to reproduce it and can provide it. Please include links to the external sites as well. In order to contribute all you have to do is click on the entity and click 'Edit' at the top of the page. It would be really nice if you registered on the site so that your edits are attached to a login. This will allow for us to send you an update if the information you provide is disputed or is changed." Take a look at the Web page at:
http://www.dxreference.com
NEW WAP WEB PAGE
Gianni, I1HYW, wants to inform OPDX readers that the WAP's (Worldwide Antarctic Program) Web site has moved to:
http://www.waponline.it
"There are a lot of features on this Antarctic Web site which is fully dedicated to Hams and Chasers. The WAP Antarctic QSL Gallery contains nearly 1000 QSLs including a special album of historical cards dated from 1945 to 1960 (before the Antarctic Treaty). The WAP Awards and a Gallery of the most important Antarctic Awards worldwide is waiting your visits. You will find a free download of the WAP Directory, a 40 pages book with the list of Bases huts and Antarctic sites, a useful tool for those wishing to play DX with this part of the world. The 5th Antarctic Activity Week (AAW) will be celebrated next February 18-24th, 2008. OMs wishing to join with their special callsigns are requested to check the list of the first ones already booked. Pay a visit and enjoy it,..... 73 Gianni I1HYW"

WHAT IS LEFT?
The witty Susan, W7KFI, 73 year old grandmother and Skipper of the USSV Dharma, waiting to sail to Johnston Island, informs OPDX this past week (on Thursday):
"Well, I guess this is it. Hawaii has a huge fire, and in the last few days, earthquake, hurricane, and now the 7.5 earthquake in Peru gives us a Tsunami...it is supposed to arrive at 2:14AM. Only thing left is a strike by meteor. Although the seas are really daunting out there, the hurricane is directly south of us, I am putting out to sea, the only way to survive an Tsunami...if at 9pm they are still predicting it, I will go to sea...hope I survive, ... Bye all".
YW6, VENEZUELA
Members of the Grupo DX Caracas are organizing the first ever DXpedition/Trek to Triple Point, Mount Roraima, Venezuela, frontier landmark between Venezuela, Guyana and Brasil. Look for special event station YW6R to be active through 3rd and 4th week of December, on HF and VHF. The Grupo DX Caracas DXpedition is open to all the radio amateurs of Venezuela and abroad, their families and friends, who wish to share a different adventure to the marvelous world of Venezuelan nature at the Gran Sabana. It will a non-forgetable experience. Complete details are available on the Web at:
